IN-PERSON EVENT - DIGITAL AND TECH IN COMMUNITY NURSING

Join us for an enlightening day at the Digital and Tech in Community Nursing Conference on October 3rd, 2024, in Newcastle. This conference is for nursing students and community nurses at all stages of their career eager to explore the advancements in digital health and technology

Conference Highlights:

- Digital Technologies in Community Nursing: Learn about the current digital landscape, benefits, challenges, and successful case studies.
- Telehealth and Remote Monitoring: Dive into the practical applications and impact of remote patient care.
- Digital Documentation and EHR: Understand the pivotal role of electronic health records and best practices for digital documentation.
- Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare: Discover how AI could influence clinical decision-making and predictive analytics, enhancing patient outcomes.

E-ROSTERING AND E-JOB PLANNING / WORKFORCE AUTO ALLOCATION

We are awaiting the refreshed annual Workforce survey results from NHSE, which will give us an updated overview of the level of attainment regarding this software within acute trust community teams. We will then be able to plan a one-hour event with the two presentations below:

- An overview of e-rostering and e-job planning (NHS England)
- A showcase by Docabode who have had success in enabling auto allocation functionality to maximise the use of community workforce, including in UCR teams in Yorkshire
